

Example on separate .bib file

I originally come from Thessaloniki, Greece. I started my studies in the UK when I entered in the second year of study in the Computer System Engineering program of the University of East Anglia at Norwich. My Bachelor was completed in 1993 and then I continued on to the University of Sheffield where I obtained by Master [1] and PhD [2] degrees on 1994 and 2000 respectively.

References

- [1] A. Grondoudis. Specification of the alternating bit protocol using x-machines. Master's thesis, University of Sheffield, 1994.
- [2] A. Grondoudis. X-machine based specification and testing for the CATV protocol. PhD thesis, University of Sheffield, 2000.