

As also mentioned in [1] the image shown below is a customised icon for a folder on the desktop of my laptop at home. I use that folder for whatever my son (Demetris) has on the machine [2]. In this folder you are most likely to find any number of the following: pictures of animals, pictures of colouring pages (most of them of Ben10), some kidz movies, maybe some MP3 songs, shortcuts to games installed on the machine.

The desktop machine [3] is the Internet machine. The boys will use that machine to access games on the internet on sites like:
